SPORT IN PLENTY AT THE RACE TRACK.

Judge Brady Suspects Fraud—Trio Boosted—Two Jockeys Hurt—Starting Poor.

JOCKEY AND BOOKMAKER UP.

Presiding Judge Did Not Like McCloskey's Ride on Trio and Found Betting Sheets Which He Thought Suspicious.

ON THE TURF.

Judge Brady, suspecting something crooked in the running of Mr. Huff-man's colt Trio, in the first race, is investigating the matter. Jockey Mc-Cluskey, who rode Trio, is under surveillance. A certain bookmaker, who took $2,000 on the horse at 2 to 1, is also connected with the affair.

Judgment will be rendered to-day.

Huntress, who finished second in the race, was disqualified for fouling several horses. The race was won by Huntress. After the first race was run, Moses Goldblatt claimed Mr. Huffman's

Trio, and got him for $300. Mr. Goldblatt owned Kingford, who ran fifth in the same race.

During the running of the hurdle race, Mr. Ohio's Sophie S. fell at the second hurdle and threw her rider, a negro, named Ellis. The mare fell over the fence, striking him. He was not injured. Ellis's fall was responsible for the fall of the mare.

Two well-played favorites were practically left at the post. They were Saino Coat, in the third race, and Miss Mae Day in the fifth event.

In both cases Mr. Bruen's starts were no very poor that they aroused the wrath of the spectators, most of whom, probably, bet on the favorite.

In the fifth race Maud Gonne equalled the track record of 1:20 for six and one-half furlongs, made August 24, 1900, by The Light. In this race Miss Mae Day distinguished herself by walking up twelve lengths on Maud

Gonne, which she lost by a bad start.

It was a wonderful performance for Miss Mae Day.

With the bad ride of Jockey McCloskey on Trio in the first race, the riding of Jockey Winkett on Roy Cross by Zoraidathe boy's leg was badly out—the subsequent disqualification of Huntress in the same event, the "boosting" of Trio, the examination of the bookmaker's sheets because Trio "dead," the bad-looking fall of a negro rider named Ellis in the hurdle race, the sequencing of the Light's record of 1:20 for six and one-half furlongs by Maud Gonne and two deplorably bad starts by Mr.

Bruen Wednesday afternoon was pregnant with interest to race-goers at the Fair Grounds.

The hot time at the old track began when the horses lined up for the first race, a four and one-half furlong race, by Maud Gonne

and two deplorably bad starts by Mr.

Start good; won handily. Winner, J. Fleming's ch. m. 4. King Eric-Dutch Girl. Ern Moo was thrown off and fell in the middle of the race, and fell, precipitating the fall of the rest of the field. The race was the best condition, swerved at fences, and jumped with uncertainty. Very Light, short, showed good speed; but slipped, jumping high and low. The other horses were all of the same class, but not of the same class. Artemus, a good jumper, but a bad jumper; ran as if very short. Medium also a good jumper, but lacked speed. Sophie a good jumper; showed speed: was thrown by incompetent rider. Very Light, Artemus a good jumper; showed some speed; ran as if short.

Time—1:24, 1:24.
